Jessika Ferm Receives “Excellence Award” from Central Ohio Coaches

(COLUMBUS, OH) – Jessika Ferm, owner of J.Ferm, a leadership development company with offices in Columbus, Boston and Sweden, has received the Excellence Award from the Central Ohio Chapter of the International Coach Federation. The award recognizes Jessika’s contribution to increasing the quality of the group’s programs over the past three years by serving in several roles, most recently as Educational Chair on the Board.

“This is a new award created because of Jessika’s impact on increasing the excellence of experiences for our diverse audience of professional coaches and those interested in becoming a coach or finding one,” said Jerry Browning, president of the chapter. “It was created to show appreciation for the gifts and talents Jessika has given to our chapter, our community and the International Coach Federation.”

Jessika Ferm was named a “Top Ten Executive Coach” by Women’s Business Boston and a Forty Under 40 rising leader by Columbus Business First. Ms. Ferm is a Professional Certified Coach who often works with dominant executives who are interested in becoming more powerful communicators and leaders.

J.Ferm was founded in 2002. It offers comprehensive leadership and executive development products, such as consulting, telecourses, workshops, assessments and keynote speaking. Further information about J.Ferm is available at (614) 441-8972 or at www.jferm.com.
